Dear Business Leaders and Friends:

It is our honor to invite you to participate and support the Year-of-the-Ox Chinese New Year Celebration taking place on February 14, 2009 at the California State University at Sacramento (CSUS) University Union, one of the largest culture events in the California Capital. This event is jointly sponsored by The Chinese New Year Culture Association (CNYCA) and California State University, Sacramento (CSUS).

CNYCA was formed in Sacramento metropolitan area in 1997. One of our primary objectives is to promote the Chinese culture and heritage through the celebration of Chinese New Year annually. The past eleven events, each with over three thousand participants, have been very successful in bringing the community together and promoting the rich Chinese cultures.

The Chinese New Year is the longest chronological record in history, dating from 2600BC. This year's celebration will include traditional lion dances, martial arts, Chinese painting and art exhibits, vendor booths, stage performances, children's games, ball room dance, medical services and other cultural activities.

Attached, please find a flyer and a sponsorship form for the 2009 Chinese New Year Celebration event. You can participate and support this event by being an event sponsor, vendor, or by placing ads in the event program book. We would greatly appreciate the support and participation by your business or organization. Please review the sponsorship form and flyer, and inform us of your sponsorship choice. If you have any question regarding this event; please contact us, or any of the Committee members listed on the flyer.

Thank you for your continued support and generosity.

Sincerely,

RungFong & Dwanchen Hsu
Chair of CNYCA 2009 Committee
